ARCHITECTURAL INFORMATION

A. General Statement

1. Architectural character: This small frame structure is situated north of the main house. Its original use is not definitely known, but thought to be an office building.
2. Condition of fabric: Interior frame work still in good condition. Exterior weatherboarding has been replaced and now in poor condition.

B. Technical Description

1. Overall dimensions: A full basement accessible from exterior steps now protected by shed roof. Approximately 12' x 14', 1-1/2 stories plus a lean-to on one side, above basement.
2. Foundations: Stone foundation walls.
3. Wall construction: Light framing members, 3" x 4" studs and rafters; covered with weatherboarding.
4. Porches: Lean-to porch added probably in 20th century.
5. Openings: Door opening to ground floor in center of south wall. Basement steps on west side of building.
6. Roof: Gable roof covered with sheet metal.
